Paris, Oct. 30. The following Arrêt published here.

Arrêt of the King's Council of State; upon Pain of Death, the bringing into the Kingdom any Stuffs or Callicoes from India, and the Levant; and of Stuffs wrought in the City of Marseilles.

THE King having caused to be represented the Arrêts of the 27th of August 1710, 11th of June 1714, and 22d of February 1716, and of the Month of July 1717, the Arrêt of the 15th of September 1719, and other Arrêts, for the Penalties therein expressed, the bring to the Kingdom, trading with, or making of painted Callicoes and Stuffs from India and the Levant, even of white Callicoes and Silks, if the said white Callicoes and Silks nor of the Produce of the Sales made by the said Company; and his Majesty being informed that the City, Port, and Town of Marseilles having been excepted in the said Prohibitions, there has been precedently brought the Sea-ports in Turkey considerable Quantities of the said Stuffs and Callicoes, which by reason of the contagious Distemper wherewith the Inhabitants of the said City are actually afflicted, are sold at a very low Price, and may therefore be likely to engage some Persons, seduced with Hopes of making great Profit, to buy the said Goods, with a View of selling and dispersing them in different Provinces of the Kingdom, notwithstanding the Prohibitions ordered by his Majesty for hindering the Communication of the said Distemper; and for as much as the said Stuffs and Callicoes are from their Nature very capable of receiving and dispersing any infectious Air, his Majesty judges that his Regard for the Preservation of his Subjects, requires from him a Renewal of the said Prohibitions, and to secure the Execution of it by severe Penalties, which at the present Juncture are necessary to be made use of, in order to prevent the bad Consequences which may happen hereafter. And therefore, his Majesty being in his Council, by Advice of the Duke of Orleans, Regent, makes express Prohibitions, on Pain of Death, to all Merchants, Traders, Hawkers, Pedlars, and others, against bringing into the Kingdom, trading, or exposing to Sale, and does hereby forbid all Persons, of what State or Quality soever, to buy by Wholesale or Retail, for themselves or others employed for them, and to receive in their Houses any India, China, or Turkey Silks, Stuffs, or Callicoes, wrought in the City of Marseilles, whether the said Stuffs and Callicoes are made of raw Silk, or mixt with Gold and Silver, Bark of Trees, Wooll, Thread, or Cotton, painted in Figures or Flowers; Callicoes, white, stained, or painted, new or old, whole Pieces, or in Parcels, Quilts, Carpets, Caps, other Works; Furniture, or Garments made of the said Stuffs and Callicoes. His Majesty likewise forbids under the same Penalties, all Brokers, Tailors, Upholsterers, Embroiderers, and other Workmen, to make up at home, or in private Houses, or to keep in their own Warehouses, Shops, or Chambers, any of the said Goods, or any Cloaths or Furniture, old or new, of the same; his Majesty further orders, that the Arrêts and Regulations concerning the said Stuffs and Callicoes, and particularly that of the 27th of September 1719, shall be executed according to their Form and Tenor. His Majesty orders, that the Lieutenant General of the Police at Paris, and the Intendants and Commissaries of the several Provinces, shall inform themselves of all the Contraventions to this present Arrêt in every Particular, his Majesty hereby granting unto them for that Purpose, all Cognizance and Jurisdiction belonging to the said Matters, to be by them finally judged, with the Number of Judges or Graduates required by Law. Done in the King's Council of State, his Majesty being present, held at Paris, the 11th Day of October, 1720, and signed
